WINE MADE FROM EXTREMES

The Gorge Wine region is a powerful place. It's a place of extremes—in climate, scenery, and style of wine—where the astounding beauty of the landscape is inextricable from its allure as a world-class wine region.

It's a modern frontier, of sorts, undergoing discovery and growth while holding fast to what makes it special. The extreme conditions that shape the wine are unique to this region—to be sensed, embraced, and celebrated.

Creativity is at the heart of the vision for Gorge Wine. The region is marked by an intrepid spirit that seeks to craft something extraordinary through inspiration in dialog with the land.

EXPERIENCE THE EXPRESSION OF 40 MILES OF INTENSE GEOGRAPHY AND TRANSITIONING CLIMATES

Less than an hour east of Portland, nestled between the majestic peaks of Mt. Hood and Mt. Adams lies the Gorge Wine region. This grape-growing district is defined by the Columbia River as it cuts through the Cascade Range at the only sea-level passage, between the Arctic Circle to San Francisco.

Here, terrains range from nearly sea level to alpine, with a highly variable aspect. The dramatic transition in topography is enhanced by the influx of cool moisture from the Pacific, which brings 50+ inches of rain per year to the eastern foothills of the Cascades but drops as little as 10 inches on the region's arid, inland end.

Though most wine regions don't cross state lines, the Gorge Wine region is comprised of an intrepid group of winemakers and growers on both shores of the river, in Oregon and Washington, bound by their passion for the work and commitment to the land. Utilizing more than 50 different premium grape varieties grown across this 40-mile stretch, winemakers have a unique opportunity to create distinction and reveal place as they hone their craft.

Idiot's Grace Wines are the production of a small, family-owned Estate winery in the Columbia Gorge. Our several plots—established since 2003, overlooking the River on both the Oregon and Washington sides—are farmed organically with imagination and humility; the wines, wild-fermented and unposturing, seek originality from this dramatic growing region. Faithful to their vintages, our offerings reflect the restless work of matching grape to place. Tasting flights, bottle sales and tours are available at the winery, nestled amongst our vineyards and orchards in the Mosier Hills.

SAVAGE - echoes the struggle of the grape - elemental and rugged. GRACE symbolizes what we hope to achieve with each vintage. We practice thoughtful and natural wine-making techniques to produce tasty, Old World-style, lower-alcohol wines true to the grape, site and vintage. Our wines are single-vineyard, single-varietal, and explore how place of origin matters - from our Loire Valley-inspired Cabernet Francs and unique take on Malbec (bottled as "Côt"), to cool-climate estate-grown Grüner Veltliner and Pinot Noir. We invite you to come taste at our winery, tour the vineyard and relax with spectacular views of the Gorge.

Broken Boulder Vineyards

Hood River, OR
Don Loop,
Vineyard Manager
541-993-5060
brokenbouldervineyards@gmail.com

Planted: 15 acres Pinot Noir, 2.5 acres Pinot Gris, 2.5 acres Chardonnay Broken Boulder Vineyard is the estate vineyard for Stave & Stone Winery. We utilize these varieties in our Stave & Stone wines, as well as offer grapes to wineries and winemakers. Broken Boulder Vineyard gets its name from the enormous basalt boulders that graced our fields, courtesy of Mt. Hood thousands of years ago.

Cathedral Ridge Vineyard

Hood River, OR
541-386-2882
cathedralridgewinery.com
crw@cathedralridgewinery.com

Planted: Riesling, Pinot Noir, Chardonnay and Pinot Gris We are blessed with our lovely House Vineyards here at Cathedral Ridge Winery with double mountain views of Mt. Hood and Mt. Adams and volcanic and silt loam soils. The Riesling was planted by Don Flerchinger in 1982. Sustainably grown.

Celilo Vineyard

Underwood, WA
The first plantings of Celilo Vineyard were developed in 1972 on the extinct volcano of Underwood Mountain. It is perched on a southwest facing site on volcanic loam and is one of the oldest vineyards in Washington state. Current plantings include Chardonnay, Pinot Noir, Gewürztraminer and Pinot Gris.

Crooked Acres Vineyard

Underwood, WA
Rob Crooke
info@crookedacresvineyard.com
crookedacresvineyard.com

Planted: Pinot Gris; Pinot Noir (Clone #13); Chardonnay (Dijon clone #76) The majestic, south facing site slopes towards Mt. Hood, the volcanic soil from Mount Adams and the temperate breezes from the Columbia River Gorge make this a special place for growing wine grapes. The deep winter rains from the Cascade Mountain range fortify the volcanic soil with moisture for bud break and berry set while the hot dry summers allow for berries with rich and complex flavors from the deep volcanic soil.

Davidson Hill Vineyards

Hood River, OR
davidsonhillvineyards.com

Planted: Malbec, Pinot Noir, Riesling

Gunkel Vineyards

at Maryhill Winery
509-773-4698
fruit@gunkelorchards.com

Varieties grown: Barbera, Cabernet Franc, Cabernet Sauvignon, Grenache, Malbec, Merlot, Muscat Canelli, Sangiovese, Sauvignon Blanc, Syrah, Viognier, Zinfandel and four Port

varieties including Touriga Nacional, Tinta Cão, Sousao and Tempranillo Nestled only 30 feet from the shores of the Columbia River, the Gunkel family has farmed the fertile lands around Maryhill Winery for three generations and is considered the winery's "estate" vineyard.

Hiyu Wine Farm

Hood River, OR
www.hiyuwinefarm.com

The Hiyu property is divided into half acre blocks, each planted to a field blend from a different moment in the genetic history of the grapevine totaling over 80 different varieties of grapes. Our vines are planted in silt loam over basalt on a southeast facing hillside above the Hood River, just 22 miles from the summit of Mt. Hood. Shaped by then weather from the mountain, the closest climate analogies can be made with the Savoie, Jura & Valle d'Aosta. The property is composed of 14 acres of vines, 4 acres of field & pasture, 0.5 acres of market garden, 4 acres of forest, a pond & the rest being moved towards food forests. Vegetation control is done by the pigs, cows, chicken, ducks and geese that dwell here during different parts of the year. There is no sulfur used and the primary control of mildew is with cinnamon oil and other sprays composed of herbal teas. The products of our vines, gardens and animals are all used in our wine tavern experiences.

Mistral Ranch

Lyle, WA
Robert McCormick
idiotsgrace.com

Planted: Grenache, Cabernet Franc, Cabernet Sauvignon, Sangiovese

Estate vineyard of Idiot's Grace Wines

Mosier Hills Vineyard

Mosier, OR
Steven Thompson
& Kris Fade, 541-478-2873
analemmawines.com

Planted: Syrah, Grenache, Cabernet Sauvignon, Trousseau, Mencía, Godello, Albarino, and Viognier. The Mosier Hills Vineyard is the home and heart of Analemma. Undulating across a south-facing ridge sculpted by the Missoula floods, our estate lies within patchwork of oak and grassland where cobblestones and glacial sands dominate the landscape. Biodynamically® certified since the spring of 2017, deep curiosity and a spirit of exploration guide our efforts in this uncharted terroir.

Idiot's Grace Vineyard

Mosier, OR
Brian McCormick
541-490-5249

Planted: Aglianico, Barbera, Cabernet Franc, Cabernet Sauvignon, Chenin Blanc, Dolcetto, Fiano, Falanghina, Gamay Noir, Grenache, Malbec, Muscat, Primitivo, Marsanne, Roussanne, Sangiovese, Sauvignon Blanc, Savagnin, Syrah, Viognier, Zinfandel. Certified organic grower-producer.

541-386-8333
mthoodwinery.com

Planted: Pinot Gris, Pinot Noir

Located at the production facility for Mt. Hood Winery; the soil, air, climate, and farming techniques all work in unison to produce fine Hood River wines known for their distinctive taste.

Oak Ridge Vineyard

Marlene and Thomas Woodward
Columbia Gorge AVA

Our fifteen acre certified organic vineyard is set high on the eastern slopes of the White Salmon Valley at 1400 feet elevation. Facing south towards Mt. Hood, the vineyard is bathed in just enough sunlight to bring out the spicy, concentrated flavors of the classic cool weather varieties. The oldest planting of Gewürztraminer dates to 1984. Pinot Noir and Chardonnay were planted in 2007-2018. Here in the Columbia River Gorge, Analemma, Viento, Mylan, Hiyu Wine Farm, COR Cellars and Savage Grace all produce wine made from our grapes. Fruit from Oak Ridge Vineyard is also featured in wine made by Brooks, Viola, Fausse Piste, Montebruno and Dowsett Family wineries.

Pearlblossom Vineyards, Underwood, WA,

Laszlo & Julie Regos, 310-422-6600, laszloregos@gmail.com or julieregos@gmail.com

Planted: Pinot Noir, Gewürztraminer, Grüner Veltliner, Riesling

Our vineyard, located high above the beautiful Columbia River is at the far western end of the Columbia Gorge AVA. Our Gruner Veltliner, Pinot Noir, Riesling and Gewürztraminer varieties on approximately 18 south facing acres, located at 1250' elevation, are dry farmed. The hot summer days and cool nights ripen the grapes while preserving the acidity which is characteristic of Underwood Mtn.

Rainmaker Farms Vineyards

Larry J Singer
larry.j.singer@gmail.com
Grapes for sale

Planted: Pinot Noir, Chardonnay, Trousseau, Gamay, Grüner Veltliner, Pinot Blanc, Gewürztraminer (25+ acres under canopy in 2020)
A 6 yr old 25 acre vineyard shaped "like a catcher's mitt" with elevations ranging from 975 to 1300 ft above sea level, fertile loamy clay soil, and a sunny southern exposures resulting in unique, quality fruit for winemakers to make fine wines to be treasured by collectors and Sommeliers alike.

Scorched Earth Vineyards

Don McDermott - 541-993-3380
donaltdmcdermott@gmail.com

planted: Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, Mourvedre, Syrah, Grenache, Zinfandel, Sangiovese, Tempranillo, & historic field blends

A magical property where every vine sees the Columbia River and Mt. Hood from this south facing, gently sloped farm. Nestled against Discovery Reach and across from the Discovery Center, we are on the bank of the Columbia River on the Washington side. The ancient floods and mix of gravel, sand, loam and basalt give mineral sustenance. Constant winds and organic farming make for ideal health and establishment of flavorful thicker skins that make this a truly perfect site for the very greatest wine grapes. Earliest bud break and river moderated temperatures take advantage of the amazingly plentiful growing degree days. We are truly blessed.

The Pines Vineyard

The Dalles, OR
Lonnie Wright, 541-993-8301
thepinesvineyard.com;
thepinesvineyard@yahoo.com

Planted: Zinfandel, Merlot, Syrah
Planted in the 1890s and revived in 1982, our vineyard is one of the oldest in the NW. We believe in quality fruit, thinning our crop and hand-picking to ensure that each grape boasts intense flavor.

Van Horn Vineyard

Hood River, OR
541-386-8333
mthoodwinery.com

Planted: Pinot Gris, Pinot Noir, Chardonnay, Gewürztraminer, Riesling

20 acres of estate vineyards outside of the Mt. Hood Winery's tasting room at our century-old farm in the beautiful Hood River Valley.

Windhorse Vineyard

The Dalles, OR
Alan Busacca; 509-592-0756
windhorsevineyard.com

alan@windhorsevineyard.com
Planted: Zinfandel (daughter of Pines Old Vine Zin), Merlot, Chardonnay, Pinot Noir, Syrah (05, 07 & Joseph Phelps clones), Primitivo (03 clone)

Our vineyard is planted at 1200 feet elevation in soils eked out of ancient volcanic mudflows on steep canyon lands with small vineyard blocks nestled in more than 130 acres of pristine oak-pine woodland. We are certified sustainably by LIVE & Salmon Safe. We're celebrating our 13th year in 2020 with additional plantings: Grenache (new ENTAV clone 362); Nero d'Avola (02.1 clone, first planting of this variety in the Northwest); and Cabernet Franc (clone 11). Wineries: contact us if you're interested in contracting for our grapes and suggest other varieties for more new plantings.
